Lock down, distancing, smart working, distance learning â these are terms that have captured the collective imagination in recent months. Unfortunately, due to the health situation, for the moment it is not possible for us to organize âface-to-faceâ auditions and internships and for this reason we have taken steps to create an online selection and a training path suitable for present times, nonetheless original and engaging. Ours does not want to be and is not the usual boring and scholastic online training, but it is full of practical tests, challenges and role playing that help candidates understand the animation experience at its core. Of course we cannot forget that a first-time animator needs information and contents, but even those are offered in a modern, multimedia and fun way. We are actually experiencing a time that seems suspended but letâs not waste it! We do not offer the usual webinar training, but a truly free online experience dedicated to those who have decided to become an entertainer for the summer. These modules are meant to express oneâs personality; interactive and engaging training moments that allow the candidate to express their talent and necessary for tutors to be able to transmit the principles of the work and prepare the candidate for the first experience.
